

Justin Lane
180 Valley View Drive NE
Newark, OH 43055

FCC
445 12th St., SW
Washington, DC 20554

Re: Review to end prohibition of profanity and nudity

Dear FCC,

It is with a very heavy heart that I am even typing this letter to you regarding your "review" to possibly end the prohibition of profanity and nudity on America's television programming. Isn't our society already saturated with evil and sin? Aren't there already countless innocent children being sexually molested, kidnapped and raped, to forever live with mental scars for the rest of their lives? Aren't there enough teachers having sex with students? Aren't there enough children who instead worrying about homework are now trying to figure out what to do with a baby? Aren't there enough fatherless children? Broken homes? Isn't there enough SIN already destroying our country?

There still is foundational truth. There are still words called decency and morality. There is still right. There is still wrong. Profanity and nudity are sin. Sin is of the devil. Sin is destroying America. Sin is destroying families. Sin is destroying our children. Sin, in the end, leads to death.

No matter your decision, there will be a day when you give an account for your decision. If you care about our nation, our citizens, our kids, and their eternal souls; if you care more for life and freedom and decency, character and reputation more than the love of money, you will not end the prohibition of profanity or nudity. You will encourage it. You will increase it.

Congress gives the FCC responsibility for administratively enforcing laws prohibiting the airing of obscene programming at any time and the airing of indecent programming or profane language during certain hours. But God has given us all the responsibility to choose, for our souls and all others we affect, whether we will spend eternity in Hell or in Heaven.

It's your choice. Choose wisely. Life is short.

Concerned citizen,

Justin Lane